I have been very pleased working with you and Dale. Monday evening is fine, but if you want to get together this weekend call me first to make sure I am home, or let me know when you want to meet. I have several errands to run and will be in and out all weekend. Thanks again. I am very happy overall with what we were able to accomplish, and the service you provided. :)

Richard,

Attached to this email is the final invoice for services. I believe Dale should finish this morning or early afternoon. If you see anything, have any requests, or see final touches we need to address, please let me know promptly so we may complete them. Is Monday evening a good evening for you or will you be around this weekend?

Thanks again,
